Response to Amendment

1. This office action is in response to applicant's amendment received on 03/27/2006.

Claim 9 has been cancelled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The claimed invention as a whole must accomplish a practical application. That is, it must produce a "useful, concrete and tangible result." State Street, 149 F.3d at 1373, 47 USPQ2d at 1601-02. The purpose of this requirement is to limit patent protection to inventions that possess a certain level of "real world" value, as opposed to subject matter that represents nothing more than an idea or concept, or is simply a starting point for future investigation or research (Brenner v. Manson, 383 U.S.519, 528-36, 148 USPQ 689, 693-96); In re Ziegler, 992, F.2d 1197, 1200-03, 26 USPQ2d 1600, 1603-06 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

A process that consists solely of the manipulation of an abstract idea is not concrete or tangible. See In re Warmerdam, 33 F.3d 1354, 1360, 31 USPQ2d 1754, 1759 (Fed. Cir. 1994). See also Schrader, 22 F.3d at 295, 30 USPQ2d at 1459. Nor can one patent "a novel and useful mathematical formula," Flook, 437 U.S. at 585, 198 USPQ at 195; electromagnetism or steam power, O'Reilly v.

Morse, 56 U.S. (15 How.) 62, 113-114 (1853). To view the new guidelines for 35 U.S.C. 101, please view the following OG notice.

<http://www.uspto.gov/web/offices/com/sol/og/2005/week47/patgupa.htm>

Regarding claims 1-8, Merely determining the quantity of feedback pulses accumulated during the current sampling period would not appear to be sufficient to constitute a tangible result, since the outcome of the determining the quantity of feedback pulses accumulated during the current sampling period step has not been used in a disclosed practical application nor made available in such a manner that it's usefulness in a disclosed practical application can be realized. Therefore, claim(s) 1-8 appear(s) non-statutory.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-8 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 101, set forth in this Office action.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 03/27/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
